

Families First Coronavirus Response Act
Use Chart

The Families First Coronavirus Response Act applies to all private employers with less than 500 employees.

The Secretary of Labor may draft regulations that exclude employers with less than 50 employees whose businesses would not be viable if they comply with the FFCRA, but currently these employers are covered.

Employers of healthcare providers and emergency responders have the ability to limit their employee's ability to take leave under this law. If an employer is considered a Healthcare Provider under the FMLA, the employer is considered one under the FFCRA as well.

This is the latest update as of today 3/20/20.
